Allies Knock Props From Under Communist "Iron Triangle" And Drive Into North Korea

Tokyo, Tuesday, June 12—(AP)—Allied troops and tanks knocked out the props of the Communist "Iron Triangle" Monday and pushed almost three miles deeper into North Korea toward new Communist defense lines.

A pooled field dispatch said Eighth Army infantrymen advanced up to 4,500 yards Monday, then were stopped cold by a regiment of 1,500 Chinese troops and heavy artillery fire.

The action took place on a road leading north to Kumsong, new Chinese assembly area, 12 miles northeast of captured Kumsong. Front line officers believed they had bumped into the new main Communist defense lines south of Kumsong.

Two Lose Lives As Car Plunges Into The Clarion River

Clarion, June 11—(AP)—An auto plowed through a guard rail and into the Clarion river today, killing a mother and her five-year-old son. Two men—the boy's father and a friend—were injured.

State Police identified the victims as Mrs. Robert French, 28, and her son, Robert, of Fayetteville, Ark. Injured in the crash were Robert French, Sr., of Fayetteville, and Richard Boyesen, 21, of Dorchester, Mass. They were treated at Brookville Hospital.

Firemen recovered the woman's body shortly after the wreck. The body of the boy and the car were not recovered immediately.

French told police his wife drowned when she broke from his grasp. His son was asleep in the back seat of the car.

The French family and Boyesen were on route to Dorchester for a two weeks' vacation. French only last week graduated from the University of Arkansas.

RAISE OVER MILLION FOR THE CANCER FUND

New York, June 11—(AP)—Comedian Milton Berle has raised $1,127,311 in pledges for the Damon Runyon cancer fund during a 22-hour television marathon. By the time he finished his stint before the hot lights at 9 a. m. yesterday, Berle had lost nine pounds and changed his costume six times. He planned to "sleep—just sleep" after personally taking some 2,000 telephone calls.

National Forest Camp Grounds in the Area Are Again Proving Most Popular

Indications are that thousands of vacationists from northwestern Pennsylvania, and adjacent New York and Ohio are once more beginning their annual summer trek, or shorter weekend or hot summer evening trips to Pennsylvania's only federally owned woodlands—The Allegheny National Forest. This was verified today in the office of R. J. Costley, the Forest's Supervisor, post office building in this city.

If present trends continue, it is believed by local officials of the United States Forest Service that 1951 will undoubtedly set a record considerably in excess of the use during last summer's fairly cold season, when the recreational use on the Allegheny was still a great deal heavier than on most of the nation's 150 odd National Forests.

The use by picnickers and campers began with the first warm spring days and gradually increased until the beginning of the trout season, when the several hundred miles of public fishing waters of the Forest received the first of many visits by thousands of fishermen that avail themselves of this form of outdoor recreation.

This outdoor recreation will undoubtedly increase until the normal peak is reached during the week of July 4th. From then it can be expected that it will remain at a high level through the Labor Day weekend. If past trends hold true, there will then be another peak during the hunting season in November and December.

While Kennedy Springs near Bradford, Allegheny and Morrison Run camps near Warren, Hearts Content and Sandstone Springs between Warren and Tidioute, and Kelly Pines near Marienville are proving as popular as ever, probably the most interest is being shown in the fine Twin Lakes area near Kane and Johnsonburg, and the popular Loleta area just south of Marienville.

NOISY EARTHQUAKE JARS EASTERN AREA

Westerly, R. I., June 11—(AP)—A noisy earthquake jounced parts of three states yesterday and shook buildings and shelves and rattled windows and nerves.

A rumbling roar which came with the quake was blamed by police for frightening hundreds of persons in this area and in some sections of Massachusetts and Connecticut.

FLIER IS KILLED IN MOCK ENGAGEMENT

New Castle, June 11—(AP)—A fighter plane flying over in a mock air engagement crashed and exploded near here yesterday, killing an Air National Guardman from Waynesburg.

Lt. Scott Blair, 28, was identified as the dead pilot by Lt. Col. T. R. Chanter of the Pittsburgh-based 121st Fighter Group.

Blair, a veteran of four years' service in the Air Force and the father of four children, crashed in his F-47 Thunderbolt during a routine training flight. He had been in the Air Guard about a year.

Republicans to Caucus Friday to Hear Details of Fine's $1,220,000,000 Budget

Harrisburg, June 11—(AP)—Republican senators, anxious to get home for the July 24 Primary, have called a caucus Friday to hear administration fiscal officers go into the details of Gov. John S. Fine's $1,220,000,000 budget.

The Republicans say they want to determine if any cuts could be made, and if so, where.

Called on to appear are Budget Secretary Edward B. Logan, Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn and Otto F. Messner, secretary of Revenue.

The caucus may produce one of two results:

1. An agreement on the month-long impasse over what, if any, new taxes should be imposed to finance the state government in the next two years, or,
2. Continuance of the deadlock, with the prospect of a long summer session.

Meanwhile, producing new complications in the tax-budget deadlock, Fine over the weekend disavowed a GOP senatorial idea of substituting a retail mercantile tax for his disputed state income tax levy.

"I want to make it crystal clear," Fine said in his statement, "that I am not sponsoring or advocating a mercantile tax. If the legislature places a tax before me (by passing it) I will, of course, be compelled to give it serious consideration."

The deadlock developed when the governor introduced his $163,000,000 tax program.

WOUNDED—George Christensen, Irvine, has been advised by Vice Admiral L. T. Dubose, chief of naval personnel, that his son, George, hospitalman, USN, was wounded in action in Korea June 1st. Because of combat conditions, details have not been made available but his father is assured he is receiving "the best of medical care." Seventeen years old on the day he enlisted, young Christensen has been in the Navy for three years. The family formerly lived in Youngsville and George, Jr., attended schools at that place.

One Dead in Fire At YMCA Building At State Capital

Harrisburg, June 11—(AP)—A woman secretary was killed today when an explosion and a sheet of flames shot through the central Young Men's Christian Association building in downtown Harrisburg.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Alice Werner, about 50, of Harrisburg. The identification was made by Walter E. Kirker, executive secretary of the association. He said no one else was injured.

Kirker said the woman was trapped in a bathroom.

Kirker said about 125 persons were in the six-story modern brick building when the explosion occurred. He said all were evacuated in a few minutes.

Firemen carried the victim's body out through a narrow second-floor window and down a ladder as a crowd of hundreds, quickly gathered at one of Harrisburg's busiest intersections.

Ten or more firemen were overcome by smoke before the blaze was brought under control.

Kirker estimated the damage to the 100-room building at $50,000.

Eastern Star Holds Meeting at Capital

Harrisburg, June 11—(AP)—Some 3,000 women from all parts of Pennsylvania came to the state capital today for the 57th annual convention of the Order of Eastern Star.

The convention opens tonight, with sessions continuing through Thursday.

The general assembly recessed its 1951 session until Monday, June 18 because of the convention. When Harrisburg hotels took reservations for the convention it was expected that the assembly would be through by that time. The result was that no hotel rooms were available this week for the lawmakers.

A banquet will be held Tuesday night. Officers will be elected on Wednesday. They will be installed on Thursday.

PRESIDENT TO DELIVER TALK ON CONTROLS

Washington, June 11—(AP)—President Truman's campaign for new and stronger economic controls is scheduled to reach a climactic stage this week with results still a wide-open question.

Mr. Truman has been plugging for a two year extension of the defense production act, plus added anti-inflation powers. The act, which authorizes present economic controls, is due to expire June 30.

Apparently disturbed by what he reportedly considers lack of interest in the issue, the president will speak to the nation Thursday night (9:30 p. m. EST) in a further effort to get across his argument that inflation poses an active and immediate danger.

Meantime, house and senate banking committees today begin work behind closed doors to determine the possible fate of Mr. Truman's request.

A number of congressmen have talked of giving him no more than a one-year extension of the present powers, if that much. Some lawmakers have agreed with organizations which told the committees that price and wage controls are not needed.

Mr. Truman wants the law strengthened to provide new powers over prices, wages, rents and strategic materials.

Criticism of the present controls have come from farm organizations, notably cattlemen whose livestock prices have been rolled back, various business groups and some labor organizations. Generally, labor union witnesses have been supporting controls while cautioning against what they describe as too much restriction of wage increases.

Discussion of the economic control program gained intensity over the weekend after Democratic and Republican leaders met Friday with Mr. Truman and promised to hasten work on an extension bill.

The Democratic national committee entered the campaign, urging the people to write congress for quick action against inflation.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said on a radio program (Wink Meet Your Congress) yesterday that he estimates government spending for 1953 will reach $90,000,000,000, just twice this year's outlay.

Committee Named For Penn'a Plan To Aid Industries

The Pennsylvania Plan for Production Mobilization which aims to make the greatest possible contribution to the defense program and provide capacity production for the industries of the state and full employment for the workers as well, was explained to a group of industrialists and business men at the Chamber of Commerce offices this morning by J. Kennedy Spafford, Northwest Pennsylvania's Industrial Representative.

The project is aimed primarily to providing assistance to the 81% of industries in the state now employing less than 500 persons, and aid these industries to secure important sub-contracts from prime contractors.

As a result of the conference the following committee composed of representatives of industries in Warren was named as the War-Mobilization Committee.

Russia Demanding Jap Peace Parley

Moscow, June 11—(AP)—Russia demanded yesterday that all nations who fought Japan in World War II be invited to a peace conference in July or August. One of the countries invited would be Communist China.

The demand was included in a 18-page note handed U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk by Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin. It replied to an American note dated May 19.

The Russian note reiterated that a Council of Foreign Ministers including Russia, the United States, Britain, France and Communist China was the proper forum for preparation of the treaty for consideration by the larger group.

The Soviets called also for signing of any peace treaty by all nations which fought Japan, rather than conclusion of separate treaties, and said all the wartime allies must participate in preparation of the treaty. Russia again rejected an American invitation to negotiate with the U. S. on the U. S. proposed draft of the treaty.

END OF LINE FOR TWO CARS—Above shows the relative positions of two automobiles involved in a fatal accident on the Kiantone road shortly before noon Sunday, which resulted in the death three hours later at the Warren General Hospital of Anna-Stina Miranda, 21, of Jamestown, N. Y., injury to the passenger and owner of the car Rolf Pederson, 30, radio announcer and director of the Swedish program, and narrow escape from serious injury to the operator of a second car (on the highway) Dewey Anderson, 33, Rd 2, Kane, and the six passengers in his car, including his wife, mother, three children, and a guest. The Pederson car is shown, right, partly in the field. (Photo by Coyle).

Popular Jamestown Resident Victim of Sunday Morning Accident En Route to Warren

A popular 21-year-old Jamestown girl, Anna-Stina Marinder, who came to this country only last November from Sweden, was fatally injured in one of a series of accidents reported in the area over the weekend, when the car she was operating, owned by Rolf Pederson, 30, director of the Sunday afternoon Swedish program on Station WNAE, went out of control and skidded into a vehicle operated by Dewey A. Anderson, 33, Rd 2, Kane.

The accident occurred about 11:45 o'clock Sunday morning, on the Kiantone road, about two miles north of Akeley, directly in front of the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Williams, when Miss Marinder and Pederson were en route to Warren, for the latter to supervise his Swedish Hour program. Pederson is in the hospital with painful injuries, the full extent of which may not be known until x-ray examinations are completed.

Mr. Anderson and five passengers in his car miraculously escaped serious injury, although most of them were treated either at the hospital or in doctor's offices. Injured in the Anderson car were: Mrs. Ida Anderson, 72, mother of Mr. Anderson, severe laceration on the chin; Keith Hadfield, 15, bruises on the nose; Don Anderson, aged 8, bruises and shock; Thomas Anderson, 7, right knee bruised; Judith Anne Anderson, 3, shock. Mrs. Dewey A. Anderson, who escaped serious injury of any kind.

Investigation by the State Police and coroner's office divulged that Miss Marinder and Pederson were coming to Warren in the latter's 1940 Studebaker, with the young woman at the wheel. Pederson said later at the hospital that he was studying script for his radio program, and did not realize what was happening until the car went out of control.

It was apparent that Miss Marinder attempted to pass another car, who police say, was occupied by Rudolph Erickson, 36, of 609 Lakeview avenue, Jamestown, who was accompanied by his wife. After pulling into the left lane it appears that Miss Marinder doubtless discovered the Anderson car approaching from the opposite direction, and decided to pull back into the right lane behind the Erickson vehicle, but in this operation she lost control of the Studebaker and it skidded across the highway, and onto the berm for a distance of forty to sixty feet. It is possible the careening vehicle struck a stump off the berm which may have caused it to spin partly around and back onto the highway directly into the path of the Anderson car. Anderson said later at the hospital (Turn to Page Seven)

American Medical Association Relaxes Long Fight on Compulsory Health Plan

Atlantic City, N. J., June 11—(AP)—American Medical Association President Elmer L. Henderson said today that the AMA could relax its two-and-a-half-year battle against compulsory health insurance.

In a speech prepared for the first session of the AMA House of Delegates annual meeting, Dr. Henderson said that possibilities of a national health plan are now gone, "at least temporarily."

He announced that the AMA's special intensive campaign against compulsory health insurance would stop by the end of this year.

Dr. Henderson said a board of trustees decision to terminate the drive was made on the advice of campaign directors Clem Whitaker and Leone Baxter, Chicago Public Relations directors retained for the fight.

The regular AMA staff, he said, will now take over their job "to hold the ground already gained and ward off any new attacks."

Dr. Henderson praised the Whitaker-Baxter team for "inspired direction" and "heart-and-soul dedication to our battle."

Dr. Henderson also urged continued support for AMA projects to improve American medical service.

BULLETIN
Washington, June 11—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, backing up Gen. Testifying at the senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, Wedemeyer hit back hard at some of the testimony Secretary of State Acheson gave the senators last week.

Bradley Back From Conference With European Leaders

Washington, June 11—(AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, returned today from a 10-day round of conferences with U. S. British and French military leaders in Europe.

The general reached national airport at 6:55 A. M. (EST), about three hours ahead of the time he was due. His arrival was so early and unexpected there was no one on hand to meet him.

Bradley's report on his talks abroad will be the first of a series of personal studies by top defense officials from which a broad and up-to-date picture of America's global position can be assembled.

Bradley was expected to make a preliminary report during the day to resident Truman and Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett.

Within the next ten days, President Truman will have available the observations and recommendations of three other pentagon chiefs who simultaneously made high level reconnaissance missions to Europe and the Far East.

Meanwhile, the chief of the U. S. Air Force, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, has been checking up on the status of air power in western Europe.

Widespread Loss Caused By Storms

Pittsburgh, June 11—(AP)—Week-end storms in western Pennsylvania killed a woman and caused widespread property damage.

Mrs. Georgia Wooden, 45, of Pittsburgh, drowned. The auto in which she was riding was tossed against a tree by water rushing down a Pittsburgh street after a cloudburst. Four other persons were rescued from the auto.

The flash storm Saturday was followed by rains yesterday. In the Greensburg-Jeannette area at least $45,000 damage was reported. Jack's run overflowed in Greensburg and damaged the shipping and storage room of the Imperial Lighting Company. The American Glass Company at Jeannette suffered similar damage.

Nearly 50 mink drowned or escaped at the Stephen Vella Mink Farm near Greensburg. Vella estimated his loss at $3,000.

State in Forefront in Move to Induce Industrial Preparedness For Emergency

Harrisburg, June 11—(AP)—Pennsylvania stood in the forefront today in a move to induce new industrial preparedness for war and to benefit the state's industry.

Commerce Secretary Andrew J. Sordani said his department is now making a survey of every piece of machine equipment in every shop in the commonwealth.

"Six men now are in the field checking on where machinery is being kept busy and where some of it is standing idle," said Sordani.

"Every effort will be made to put the idle equipment to work by bringing it to the attention of manufacturers with orders they cannot fill for lack of machinery."

In this way, Sordani said, the commonwealth can help contribute more to the nation's industrial production and put idle machinery and workers back on the job.

The secretary, himself a building contractor, hotel owner and board member in many business firms, said that such a survey turned up $20,000,000 in Luzerne county in World War II days.

A similar plan was utilized to great effect in York County during the war also.

U. S. Asks Canada To Suspend Boost In Newsprint Cost

The United States price controllers have asked Canada to suspend its proposed $10 a ton newsprint price boost, according to a Dow Jones wire report to the local office of Laidlaw and Co.

If Canada fails to do this, it was hinted that U. S. may retaliate by lifting price controls over exports to its northern neighbor.

The proposed increase would make the 15th straight hike in the price of paper used by newspapers since March 1, 1933, when it sold for $34 a ton. The Canadian dealers propose to raise the current price of $107 to $117, effective July 1, 1951.

Here's the price of newsprint since 1933: March 1, 1933—$34; Oct. 1, 1933—$41; 1937—$42.50; 1938—$50; May 1, 1942—$51; March 1, 1943—$55; Sept. 1, 1943—$59; April 1, 1945—$62; Jan. 1, 1946—$68; Aug. 22, 1946—$75; Oct. 11, 1946—$85; April 1, 1947—$91; Jan. 1, 1948—$97; Aug. 1, 1948—$101; Nov. 1, 1950—$107 and July 1, 1951—$117.

The U. S. warning was carried in an official letter from Price Controller Michael DiSalle to R.N. Fowler director of the pulp and paper division in Canada's department of defense production. A copy of the DiSalle letter was sent to Chairman Ed Johnson (D-Colo.) of a Senate commerce committee. DiSalle devoted a good part of his letter to the Canadians to a history of recent discussions on newsprint prices between U. S. and Canadian officials. He noted that on May 15 U. S. officials asked about a reported $9 boost in newsprint prices and were told the story was just a "rumor."

The Canadians also promised to notify U. S. Controllers first before any newsprint prices would be boosted, DiSalle said.

Yet only two weeks later the U. S. officials were told that Abitibi Power and Paper Co. now plans a $10 hike, effective July 1. He said: "We were notified less than 24 hours before the public announcement and had no opportunity to discuss it or to even study it in the light of our memorandum of understanding with Canada. We are very disappointed in this approach, which seems to be altogether unilateral."

It was then that DiSalle voiced a diplomatically worded threat that this country might retaliate through lifting controls over export prices. Nothing that the problem of Canadian price levels is "more basic than this particular increase in the price of newsprint," DiSalle wrote.

"Already some sources are asking why we should control prices on our exports when at the same time we are faced with unlimited increases on our imports."

The U. S. price controller concluded by asking the Canadians to suspend the proposed price boost "until such time as we have had an opportunity to make a study and review of the situation."

"He said he will suggest that two meetings concerning the newsprint situation should be called. One meeting would be with

Commencement Is Dispensed With In Garland School

Garland, June 11—The following local young people have passed their grammar school examinations and hope to enter high school in the fall: William McChesney, Clarence Benedict, Norman Crossley, Glenn Stover, Kay Radecki, Jacqueline Bean, and Larry Peterson. Larry, it is reported, had the highest average in Pittsfield township and possibly in the county.

The commencement, for some reason, was dispensed with.

Russell Smith had a birthday June 4 and received best wishes from his friends.

Myrtle Norman, who has spent a month with her sister, Mrs. Smith, in Garland since returning from Florida, has opened her home at Pittsfield for the summer.

Mrs. George Richards celebrated her 86th birthday May 28. Since the death of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Morris, she has made her home with her son, Harry, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Randall and granddaughter, Geraldine, of Guy's Mills, visited Ida N. Taylor and son while en route home from a wedding in Jamestown. Mrs. Randall is a former school pupil of Mrs. Taylor.

Garland friends received with regret the news of the death of Mrs. D. D. Horn. Known as "Hattie" to old and young, she will be greatly missed in the community where she spent so many years.

The monthly meeting held in the community building was preceded by an enjoyable tureen dinner.

Theodore Smith is home for the summer from Allegheny College, having finished his freshman year.

Helen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy, is attending the summer session at Edinboro State Teachers College.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:—

While the world is filled with strife and the MacArthur-Truman controversy rolls on, investigations of all kinds occupy the attention of all, the lesser strife over the worst disgrace Warren County has ever known which has been fought tooth and nail for a long ten years now is still a number one disgrace.

I refer to the 6 mile stretch of road between Cobham and Dunns Eddy which has been practically impassable for the past five years in spite of the fact that its condition has been brought to the attention of the officials of Harrisburg and Warren county. It has been blocked with snow 4 months of the year, then with mud another 4 months and overgrown with brush the balance while those living along it have had to move out during the winter and those who pay taxes on summer homes must risk their lives to get to their villages, their taxes are collected and used on some other road so the supervisors can get in and out to spend our tax money, but the matter I am trying to get at is that after a five year fight the Deerfield supervisors have come across and bulldozed us out as far as the township line at Nigger Hollow, but what if the supervisors of Brokenstraw? They manage to keep the road passable for their own residents along Dunns Eddy, but because no one happens to live along the other mile from the railroad crossing to the township line that mile is still practically impassable which, of course, blocks traffic on the other five miles which Deerfield has made passable.

Must we, the tax payers, sit back and twiddle our fingers and wallow to and from our homes while Harrisburg refers us to Warren County who in turn refers us to the two townships who sit back and tell us "Nobody lives along that piece of road so why waste money on it?"

In spite of the condition existing there are hundreds of cars passing by just to enjoy the scenery which is unsurpassed by any of the wonderful places pictured in Pennsylvania's tourist advertising booklets.

Come on Brokenstraw, get busy and do your part in eliminating YOUR part of the No. 1 disgrace of Warren county and Pennsylvania's highway system.

URGENT NEED FOR NURSE'S AIDES

The urgent need of volunteer nurse's aides is emphasized in the following article which we are pleased to print in the hopes that it will have the desired results:

The Warren Chapter of the National Red Cross wishes to announce plans for the training of two or more additional classes of nurse's aides to start early in September.

In 1940, conscious of the growing shortage of nurses and the increasing gravity of the international situation, the Red Cross set up a program to train women to help in this crisis. From 1940 through 1945 more than 215,000 nurse's aides were trained and gave nearly 43 million hours of service.

Although trained as part of the civilian defense program and assigned to medical mobile teams and casualty stations, they served in civilian hospitals and clinics. Many served in Army, Navy and Veterans' hospitals.

From 1941 through 1944, 112 nurse's aides were trained in Warren. Six classes completed their training. Classes were held at the Warren General Hospital, taught by registered nurses. All of these aides worked at the hospital, most of them on a weekly schedule. Several served at local clinics and many are still serving at the monthly Red Cross Blood Bank. However, due to many of these aides having moved away from this community and various other factors, there is now a great need to train additional nurse's aides to carry on this work in Warren.

The specific training course for the Volunteer nurse's aide service is an intensive 80-hour plan. Thirty-four hours of class work given by a registered nurse, 40 hours of supervised practice in the hospital and six hours orientation to the hospital situation. After completion of the course regulation uniforms are worn and these can be purchased through the local Red Cross chapter.

The Red Cross is anxious to have women from nearby communities such as Youngsville, Sheffield and North Warren respond so that a plan could be worked out for these aides to serve the Bloodmobile when in their community.

Applicants should be between 18 and 55 and have a high school education or its equivalent. Application blanks can be secured at the Warren Chapter of the National Red Cross, Market street, Warren, Pa.

It is hoped that a large number of women will volunteer for this worthy cause. We are again facing an international crisis, and should be willing and ready to do our part by serving our own community. It is a well known fact that a well trained and organized group is an asset to any community in peace or war. Let us be prepared for any emergency that could confront us.

WRONG ADDRESS

Have you ever slipped a letter into the wrong envelope and mailed it off? It happens in the best of families. Even, in fact, in the diplomatic family.

Our envoy to Iran, Henry Grady, in effect did just that the other day when he mistakenly handed to Premier Mossadegh a copy of a letter written by President Truman to Prime Minister Attlee of Britain. Grady was supposed to deliver a message intended for the Iranian leader.

Mossadegh is an emotional man, given to frequent bursts of tears in public. Grady's miscue sounds like the best excuse for a breakdown the premier has yet had.

It is to be regretted that the long list of traffic accidents in the area is headed today with a crash on the Warren-Jamestown highway over Kiantone in which a popular young woman from Jamestown received fatal injuries. An unusually long list of crashes Friday night through Sunday reminds that motorists must slow down and use more caution, especially during stormy weather when pavements are treacherously slippery.

Encouraging response is being received to the appeal for funds to send the Warren Boy Choir to Philadelphia June 23 to appear on the Paul White-man television program, but much more is needed. Make checks payable to "Boy Choir Trip Fund." Send them by mail or send them to either the Times-Mirror or Radio Station WNAE. The goal is at least $750. Don't delay.

Looks like a good week for picnics and outings.

Here And There

This 'N That: Visitors to the office Friday afternoon were Clarence Strong, engaged in Cancer research at Yale University, and his grandson Wilson Willard Strong, Jr., son and great-grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Strong, former well known and substantial residents of this community. . . . It will interest his many friends to learn that Walt Kiser, popular secretary of the Warren Lodge Of Moose, has purchased a half interest in the Schaeffer Electric Co., 118 Pennsylvania avenue east, forming a partnership with Clifford Kammer, with plans made to carry on the business in the same manner as the past, adding a complete line of Hot-Point Appliances. . . . The eighth annual Merchants' Picnic Wednesday June 27th, according to "The Warren Retailer" promises to be the same delightful affair as have all in the past, with George Frantz heading the committee, Radio Station WNAE providing an orchestra for dinner music and dancing, as well as some local talent on the mike, with the program starting at five o'clock. . . . The House of David team, playing currently in the area, defeated Black Ash at Carter Field Titusville Friday evening by a score of 7 to 4 before a crowd of 1,000 fans. . . . The Oil City Chamber of Commerce has announced that it has been successful in its efforts to have the PRR restore its former practice of running the New York sleeper in and out of Oil City, instead of to Erie as is the present schedule. . . . Enjoyed being a spectator at the Hot Stove League game Friday evening at Jackson field, and can recommend these contests as exciting and fascinating entertainment for any baseball fan. . . . Balloting started Sunday throughout the nation for the selection of the two teams to be played in the annual All-Star game to be played in Detroit on July 10. . . . Gov. John S. Fine has asked Pennsylvania to join in the observance of National Swim for Health Week, June 25-30, and we can bespeak whole-hearted cooperation for this request from the very capable Bill Mulvey, physical instructor, and other members of the Warren YMCA staff. . . . Approximately 105 Bradford Hospital patients, formerly situated in the old hospital building, were moved to the new institution over the weekend, beginning at nine o'clock Saturday. . . . The Bradford Journal booked a Soap Box Derby, similar to Warren's Kids Koaster Classic, for July 4 but advanced the date to July 21 to give the entrants more time to construct their vehicles. . . . Rose bushes are being planted on the steep sides of cuts made in Route 6 between Ludlow and Kane, and it is understood the beautification program is to be extended along other sections of the highway in the area. . . . Bradford Knights of Columbus degree team exemplified the first degree for a class of candidates in the newly-reorganized Kane council No. 715 of the K. of C. in St. Callistus church hall there Thursday evening. . . . LeRoy Schneck had an interesting tape recording Saturday noon on his "Roving Mike", in the form of an interview with Dr. J. F. Crane and his 14-year-old son Dick, North Warren, who are on the high seas on the M. S. Gripsholm, for a two months' tour of European countries.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★

Georgia's Sen. 'Dick' Russell Isn't Rubber-Stamp Democrat

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, chairman of the Senate's committee investigating General MacArthur's dismissal, has two things on the Washington record of which he is particularly proud. One is his sponsorship of legislation which made the school lunch program permanent. The other is his authorship of the farm parity formula legislation.

On the first, Senator Russell's interest was aroused by the high rate of World War II draft rejections for undernourishment. Money from the federal treasury to buy surplus farm products for school lunches had been provided up to 1948 by an annual amendment tacked onto the Department of Agriculture appropriation bill. Senator Russell introduced the bill which gave the school lunch program permanent status.

A farm parity formula was something that people just talked about for a long time. The idea was to establish some ratio or relationship between the prices of things farmers sell and the things they buy. One day in 1939 Senator Russell wrote out in longhand a definition for a parity formula. That became the basis for the law.

UNTIL 1946 Senator Russell served on the Senate's Committee on Agriculture. Then congressional reorganization plans cut each senator down to two major committee assignments. A Georgia farmer himself, Senator Russell naturally wanted to keep his hand in agricultural matters. He gave up his seat on the agriculture committee, however, retaining his Appropriations and Naval Affairs Committee seats. But he hung onto his chairmanship of the agricultural appropriations subcommittee, and so kept his hold on farm affairs.

He was a co-sponsor of the Tennessee Valley and Rural Electrification legislation, and he takes great pride in the way those two programs have developed. Senator Russell has, in fact, supported most of the New Deal's domestic program—with the exception of civil rights reforms.

On Roosevelt and Truman foreign policy moves, however, Senator Russell has been something less than wholeheartedly cooperative. One count shows him favoring only 13 of some 30 major foreign policy moves. Thus he was for the Marshall Plan, but on a greatly reduced spending basis.

As a member of the Naval Affairs Committee, Senator Russell was one of five senators who made a wartime 47,000-mile inspection tour of all naval bases and activities. When the subcommittee came back, they reported, in executive sessions, on what they found. But some of the senators leaked information and a garbled account got into the press.

THOROUGHLY angered, Senator Russell took the floor next day and in what many of his friends say was the best speech of his career, he set the record straight. And he said that as far as he was concerned, that would be the end of executive sessions for the Naval Affairs Committee. He stuck to that, too, right up to the time that the MacArthur hearings began.

It was unification of the armed services that switched Senator Russell from Naval Affairs to the also-unified Armed Services Committee. He didn't particularly aspire to chairmanship of that group. But when Senator Millard Tydings was defeated last year, Senator Russell, as the ranking majority member, succeeded him.

Senator Russell makes practically no speeches out of town. In the past 18 months, he has dedicated only one gymnasium. On the floor of the Senate, he has written out and read only one major speech. For all his other speeches, he talks only from notes and from an amazing, encyclopedic memory. He speaks with a marked Georgia accent—but he speaks clearly, gracefully, fluently and tirelessly—for as long as necessary to argue down his opponents.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER A. SMITH

At 8 p. m. Saturday in Youngs-ville Free Methodist church, Elizabeth May Horner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Horner, became the bride of Walter Asbury Smith, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Smith, the father of the bridegroom officiating and the Rev. David E. Fye, pastor, assisting.

Windows of the church were decorated with mock orange blossoms and candles and the same flowers, with satin bows, marked the center aisle, leading to the chancel, where candelabra held white tapers and baskets of white peonies and mock orange were arranged against a background of palms.

Wedding music was sung by Mrs. Edwin McMeans, Youngsville, and Mrs. Richard Huhng, Washington, D. C., their selections being "God Hath Not Promised," "I Love You Truly," "Wedding Hymn," "The Lord's Prayer," with the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" used as the processional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attractively gowned in white satin, with fingertip veil falling from a sweetheart tiara, and carried a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom, with white gladioli and rosebuds tied in a shower of satin streamers. The fitted bodice of her gown was finished with a wide V-drape that dipped from a yoke of illusion and a full-draped tunic which developed into a court train.

Her sister, Helen, as maid of honor, wore yellow taffeta and carried orchid glads; while the bridesmaids were Phyllis Horner, Jamestown, in a green gown, Mrs. Dean Stuart, Youngsville, in orchid, each with yellow glads. Their frocks were made alike, with fitted bodice and full skirt, and their hair was banded with braids of matching material and the same flowers which fashioned their bouquets. Faith Ann McMeans, the little flower girl, wore rose taffeta and flowers in her hair and carried a basket from which she scattered rose petals.

Completing the bridal party were William Folts, Emporium, who served as best man for his brother-in-law, and John Bowser, Youngsville.

Mrs. Horner chose a black and white printed sheer, with white accessories, and wore a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Smith wore black accessories and pink rosebuds with aqua crepe.

Guests numbering 100 were invited for the reception which followed immediately at the National Forge Clubhouse at Irvine, where the bride's table was set with candelabra and a center arrangement of mixed white flowers. A miniature bridal couple topped the square, four-tiered wedding cake served by Mrs. William Folts, Emporium, sister of the bridegroom. Presiding were Mrs. Eldon Previte, North Chill, and Mrs. Franklin Highhouse, Warren.

Out of town guests included relatives and friends from North

Chill, Jamestown, N. Y.; Washington, D. C.; Emporium, Warren, Titusville, Erie, Girard, Tidoute, Sharon, Starbuck, Pittsfield and Irvine.

Leaving later in the day for a wedding trip through New York state, the couple will be at home after June 17 in Youngsville R. D. 1. For travel, the bride selected a navy checked suit, navy and white accessories.

She was graduated from Youngs-ville High School and Seattle Pacific College and is employed as credit manager at the Metager-Wright Company store. Honoring her with parties have been Mrs. Leota Clark, Mrs. Ida Armstrong, Mrs. Franklin Highhouse; Ruth Sell, Mrs. Edwin McMeans, Mrs. Stanley Deshner, Mrs. Harry Highhouse.

Mr. Smith, alumnus of Tidoute High and veteran of World War II, is employed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company at Starbuck.

Y-TEENS ENJOY BENEFIT DANCE

Thursday evening, 225 Beatty and senior high school students were at the YWCA and welcomed vacation with an evening of dancing. "The Thing" was displayed in a box and various guesses were made as to what the box could contain. During intermission, while the song "The Thing" was being played, the box was opened and everyone knew what "the thing" was. There was a mirror in the box and as each one passed he saw his own reflection. At last everyone knew who the popular song was written about. Pop and candy were on sale during the evening. All money taken in at the dance will be put in the fund being used to send ten of Local Y-Teens to New York.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH POLLOCK

St. Michael's Greek Catholic church in Sheffield was the scene of a beautiful wedding at 9 a. m. Saturday, when the Rev. Nicholas J. Bonetzky, Phillipsburg, N. J., united in marriage two well known young people of that community. Wed in a pretty setting of summer flowers and lighted altar tapers were Irene Donick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Donick, 46 Deerlick street, and Joseph Pollock, 8 High street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pollock.

Wearing a floor length model of white Chantilly lace over satin and a fingertip veil falling from a halo with seed pearl trim, the bride carried white roses with satin ties. White daisies edged the high neckline of the illusion yoke of her gown and were repeated on the circular bertha.

Given in marriage by her father, she had as her attendants Irene Solock, Sheffield, as maid of honor; Rose Marie Marx, Erie, and Joanne Zastawney, Irvine, bridesmaids. They wore ballerina-length gowns of frosted nylon organdy in white, the same material being used in a full-length frock for the flower girl, Priscilla Zastawney, Irvine.

Steve Peroski, Sheffield, was best man for Mr. Pollock; ushers were Paul Donick and George Steffan, Sheffield.

The bride's mother chose a light brown dress, with which she wore matching accessories and yellow carnations.

Garden flowers were used in pretty decoration of the Donick home for the reception held from two until five o'clock. The guest list of 150 included out of town relatives and friends from Phillipsburg, N. J.; Rossford, O.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Pittsburgh, Erie, Oil City, Warren, and Irvine.

Carl George Scott, Warren RD 1, was charged by police with driving while intoxicated following a two car accident Saturday afternoon at Pennsylvania and Oak.

When arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund, Scott entered a plea of guilty and waived a hearing. He posted bond for his appearance in court.

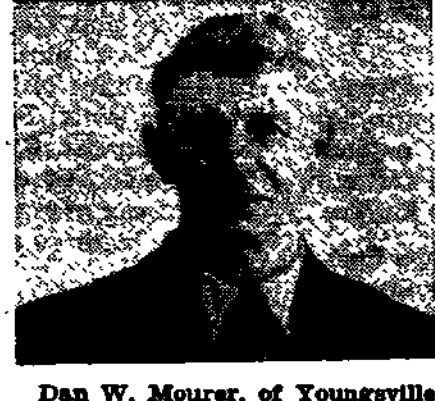

Police said that Scott was proceeding east on Pennsylvania avenue about four o'clock Saturday afternoon and attempted a right turn into Oak street. He swung wide on the corner and struck a car operated by Jerry Waxman, 109 1/2 Oak street. No one was injured and damage to the two cars was estimated at $150.

Early Saturday morning, police were called to Brook and Roy streets where a car operated by Charles L. Babcock told police he was blinded by oncoming automobile headlights.

Dan W. Mourer, of Youngsville, who has completed 25 years of service as a forest fire warden with the Department of Forests and Waters.

Mr. Mourer was awarded a certificate of service Friday by M. W. Draemel, secretary of Forests and Waters, and Ben Gipple, chief forest fire warden of Pennsylvania, upon rounding out a quarter of a century in the service of the Commonwealth.

Anton Vogler, district forester, in a letter to Mr. Mourer, commended him on his splendid record and said that Pennsylvania's forests were green because of the faithful work of the fire wardens.

Three soldiers, who had overstayed their leaves from Camp Atterbury, Indiana, were removed from the local jail by military police and returned to camp on Saturday. One of the soldiers was found in Clearfield, one at Tiona and the third in Warren.

A fourth street resident reported a possible burglary. Police investigated and found that a four-year old girl, who lives in an adjoining apartment, had entered a bedroom, and ransacked dresser drawers. The tot also spilled a bottle of cologne and a bottle of pills around the place.

A Beatty street resident reported extensive damage to his garden and named two boys whom he felt were responsible. One of the youngsters is 12 and the other 13. Police are investigating.

that he was practically stopped in his lane of the highway when the impact occurred.

Miss Marinder was thrown from the Pederson machine, evidently with such force that she received a broken neck, and severe fracture to the skull. Both were brought to the hospital in the Lutz-Vermyla ambulance, being admitted shortly after 12 o'clock. Miss Marinder passed away at 2:55 o'clock without gaining consciousness. The condition of Mr. Pederson was reported as good today.

The injured in the Anderson car were brought to the hospital in the Erickson car, and after receiving treatment were taken to their homes.

The Pederson car was towed to the Fox garage in Russell, and the wreck of the Anderson machine was brought to the Helle garage in this city.

The officers were told that Miss Marinder had considerable experience in driving in Sweden before coming to this country, and within the past month had taken tests and been given an operator's license.

The body was removed to the Lutz-Vermyla Funeral Home until completion of the investigation after which it was released to the Henderson-Lincoln morticians and taken to Jamestown, N. Y., where funeral arrangements will be made upon receipt of instructions from the parents who reside in Grasbo, Dalarna, Sweden. Two brothers, in Sweden, also survive. Miss Marinder was employed at the Marlin-Rockwell Co., and resided at the Agnes Home in Jamestown.

was relieved as commander of the Sixth Army.

Wedemeyer was then placed in charge of the Sixth Army. He told the senate armed services and foreign relations committees "It has proved to be a challenging and an interesting assignment."

Wedemeyer recently applied for retirement. There have been questions raised in some quarters as to whether he was leaving the service because he was dissatisfied.

Wedemeyer, author of the controversial Wedemeyer report on China and Korea, appeared in civilian clothes. All the other generals who have preceded him, except secretary of defense Marshall, were in uniform.

Wedemeyer is commanding general of the Sixth Army with headquarters at the Presidio, San Francisco, Calif., but recently asked retirement.

On his arrival in the committee room, Wedemeyer was greeted first by three Republican senators—bridges (NH), Cain (Wash) and H. Alexander Smith (NJ).

The general chatted with them until Chairman Russell (D-Ga) came in. Then Wedemeyer strode across the room and shook hands with Russell.

"Senator", he said, "I have been following these hearings very closely and I think you have been doing a swell job. That is the consensus on the west coast."

Russell thanked him and said he had become quite familiar with Wedemeyer's career since the start of the inquiry. He told the general he "one of the truly great" men of the nation.

The earlier witnesses in order of appearance were Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Secretary Marshall, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, Admiral Forrest P. Sherman and Secretary of State Acheson.

Two Hospitalized After Crash on Route 6

Hospitalization of two men was necessary yesterday morning when cars, pictured above, operated by Julien Fred Johnson, of Sheffield, and Harold Wilbur, of Clarendon, collided on Route 6 about one mile east of Warren. The time of the accident was 9:25 a. m.

State police, who were called, said that Johnson was driving west on Route 6 and Wilbur was proceeding toward Clarendon. Marks on the road indicated that Johnson was over the center of the road. The cars collided almost head on. Damage was estimated at about $600.

Johnson, who was admitted at the hospital after emergency treatment, suffered a concussion, a four-inch laceration of the forehead and a puncture wound of the right knee. Wilbur was discharged after treatment for a deep two-inch laceration of the forehead.

Yesterday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, cars operated by Gordon D. Tracy, of Falconer, N. Y., and Clyde Brown, of Warren, collided on the Cobham Park road on the narrow bridge near the old school about one mile from the city limits.

No one was injured and damage was estimated at about $125.

State police, who investigated, said that Tracy was proceeding toward Warren and that he applied his brakes to slow down as Brown was just leaving the bridge. Tracy's car swerved to the left, causing the two cars to collide.

A wiener roast was held for the performers in the evening, and the circus director, Mrs. Augustus Swick, said there probably will be a tidy sum left over which the performers want to donate to the Hot Stove Baseball League.

The circus opened with the customary antics by the clowns, and included an acrobatic act by Bobby Frederick, a tight rope act by Richard Swick, a snake charmer performance by Bobby Eggleston, a thin man act by John Tutar, a fat lady act by Kay Standburg, and a bare-back riding act by Judy Schreengost.

First Methodists Lead Softball Loop

First Methodist took a forfeit from New Process in the YMCA Church Softball League Friday night to move into the top spot in the standings with a 4-1 record. Sylvania, 23 to 9 winner over the Hi-Y in a second contest Friday, now control second place position with a 3-1 count and New Process is third with 3-2.

J. Dahler allowed 10 hits for Sylvania, and Forsgren was the losing pitcher with 31 hits against him. Reese, Hi-Y, had the only homer in the game, while three-baggers were slammed out by Bonavita, Valona, Seesley, and Dahler for Sylvania, and Wright for the Hi-Y.

Tonight the Grace Methodists battle the Lutherans on Beatty Municipal and Sylvania meets First Methodist on Beatty School Field at 6:15.

Fish Commission Revises Its Setup

The Pennsylvania Fish Commission has announced a new administrative setup in which the state is divided into six divisions, similar to the divisions under which the Game Commission operates.

Leaders in the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs have for years recommended that the Fish Commission be administered along the lines of the Game Commission. This is one of the necessary steps in that direction.

The Fish Commission's Northwest Division will include the same counties as the Game Commission's Northwest Division. They are Warren, Butler, Clarion, Crawford, Erie, Lawrence, Mercer, Forest, Venango and Jefferson counties. The new plan probably will be put into effect shortly after July 1.

HEADPIN TOURNEY

Scores fired over the weekend produced new leaders in both the men's and women's division of the Headpin Tournament being conducted at the Arcade alleys. The tourney continues all this week.

Ernie Wilson shot into the lead in the men's bracket with his 317 total (114-97-106), while the former leader, Dick Carlson, dropped into second place with 312. Wilson's 114 also is high in the single game department.

Rilla Woods is the new leader for the women's bracket with 273 (69-105-99). Louise Moorhead ranks second with 257. Rilla's 105 is the best single game for women.

Phillies Conducting 3-Day Trout School

The National League's Philadelphia Phillies are conducting a three-day trout school at Meadville today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The school sessions which start at 10:30 a. m. are under supervision of Philly Scouts Dale Jones and Pat Colgan.

All interested youths between the ages of 16 and 22 years of age in northwestern Pennsylvania and northwestern Ohio are invited to attend. The classes are being held at Allegheny College's new field on Park avenue extension.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

By The Associated Press

A two-run homer by Hank D. Johnson gave Niagara Falls a 5-4 verdict over the Erie Sailors and moved the New Yorkers today to within eight games of the Middle Atlantic League's pace-setting sailors.

Meanwhile, tail-ender Oil City beat third-place New Castle in both ends of a Sunday doubleheader 3-0 and 8-3, while Butler and Lockport divided another twin bill. Butler won a see-saw thriller in the opener with a four-run eighth inning which featured a base-clearing double by Catcher Bob Watson. Lockport captured the seven-inning nightcap, 6-2. In the game at Niagara Falls, the citizens came from behind with two runs in the eighth. Yount, who has been defeated once this year, scattered Erie's nine hits.

GOOD DEFENSE BASED ON SLICK DEDUCTION

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

East made an unusual defensive play in the hand shown today. He could have made a comfortable routine lead to make declarer tuff. Instead he made the most uncomfortable possible lead—which happened to be the only way to set the contract. Let's see how he worked it out in his mind.

West opened the three of clubs on the theory that he was not going to get many chances to lead. If his partner and dummy both had broken club strength, the club lead might well be the decisive move of the defense.

As it happened, the opening lead did no particular good. Dummy played low, East incautiously put up the ace, and South dropped the deuce. East realized that South must still have the jack of clubs (otherwise he would have played one of dummy's high clubs) and that the jack must be alone since West's lead was obviously a fourth-best choice.

East laid down the ace of diamonds and continued the suit, South ruffing. Declarer returned the jack of spades, knocking out East's king. East then led another diamond, forcing South to tuff again.

South next led the ten of spades, knocking out East's ace. And now East was at the crossroads.

If he led back another diamond—a very comfortable play to make—South would tuff, draw the last trump, take the jack of clubs, then lead to the ace of hearts and

Discover How Good Iced Tea Can Be

Warm weather brings many good things, one of which is iced tea. As the days grow warmer, housewives the country over will be serving more and more of this refreshing, amber-colored beverage . . . and no wonder. Iced tea is the one iced beverage most ideally suited for hot-weather meals. It is a thirst-quenching cooling, refreshing, delicious, easy to make, blends perfectly with all foods, and—very important in these days of strained food budgets—it is economical. In fact, it is the most economical beverage in all the world, except plain water. For only a few cents you can make a batch of iced tea that will serve your family's needs all day long.

The economy of iced tea makes it more welcome this year than ever before. It offers a wonderful opportunity to pep up your meals and save beverage money at the same time. Be sure, however, that you make iced tea properly. For best results follow this recipe: First, select the finest quality tea you can buy. Only quality tea gives you the full enjoyment of truly delicious, full-flavored tea. Fortunately, tea is one product so economical that everyone can afford the best. Salada Tea, for example, will give you consistently fine results. Make hot tea the usual way by scalding a teapot and putting in a teaspoonful of Salada Tea or one Salada Tea-Bag for each person. Next, pour fresh bubbling boiling water over the tea and allow it to steep for five full minutes. Stir, then pour into glasses filled with ice. The result will be a perfectly clear, amber-colored, appealing and cooling drink with all of the delicious refreshing qualities of iced tea. Add sugar and lemon to taste and garnish with mint leaves if desired.

METZGER-WRIGHT'S

Corpse on the Town

By JOHN ROEBURT

Chapter 5

THE foot-toot of the Imperial's horn coursed through the noon-time crowd milling past the City Morgue. Red came up to the cab. "Why the door watching?" Jigger chided. "The show's inside."

"I was inside. Managed to hang on for an hour before I got the bum's rush."

"Who bounced you?"

"New York's finest."

Jigger smiled reassuringly. As an associate sleuth, Red needed constant replenishing with Vitamin W—Willingness.

"Catch anything inside?" Jigger asked.

"During my hour inside, four people positively identified our late brunette."

"Anyone worth our attention?"

"Three of them were obvious phonies with some angle in claiming a corpse as a daughter, wife, or sister."

"How about the fourth?"

"A wife claimer. Name's Willie Hunter. He came dashing in from out of town. After viewing the body, he insisted she was his wife."

The levity had dropped from Red's tones. Jigger looked at him sharply. "Think this fellow's something?"

Red said slowly, "I dunno. There was nothing about him as obviously phony as the others. His grief appeared to be the real thing. Only—" Red hesitated.

"Only what?"

"The looks of the guy, I guess. Humped-up. Booby-hatch look around the eyes." Red shrugged. "I'm probably wrong, and a slandering house, but I got the impression of arrested development."

"Where is this Willie Hunter?"

"Hasn't come out yet. His story was beginning to build, when he got the heave-ho." What's with the Bellevue patient?"

"Sad," Jigger said meagerly. "I—uh, wangled a sketchy report from a nurse who thought better of blabbing halfway through our chat."

"Exactly how sad," Red said. "Don't spoon-feed me."

Jigger grinned. "Critical Ward. Spent the night in an oxygen tent. Plus the concussion he got, our friend is an advanced alcoholic amnesiac."

"Any chance of recovery?"

"Weeks, months, that is—if he

"Anyhow, he's of no use to us, or to the police, as he is."

Red looked driven. "Can I buy a bribe, or beg my way out of this? Give you a running head start into the chaos you feed on, then go home to my typewriter?"

Jigger detected the hint. "Red, you've got something!"

Red reached into his pocket, grumbling. "I'm just tightening the noose around my neck, playing brilliant assistant like the masochist I am." He handed Jigger a newspaper tear. "This was a hunk of sheer accident. I was hunting down an apartment listing."

Jigger frowned. "The Public Notice column?"

"Read the bottom block," Red instructed.

Jigger read: S.W. URGENTLY ADVISE YOU RECONSIDER. RETURN. PROMISE OF GOOD AND GREAT THINGS CERTAIN. C.L.S.

Red waited for a reaction, then said, "Why the dead pan? S.W.'s also the initials on that note you snagged out of the mailbox."

Jigger looked doubtful. "It's an idea, but a little forced, improbable, there are probably enough S.W.'s in Greater New York to pack the Yankee Stadium."

"It's not Greater New York. It narrows down to Greenwich Village. I clipped the advertisement from the community weekly."

Jigger re-read the advertisement with new interest. He said aloud, "C.L.S."

"Cecil Lee Scott, a professor in narrative technique and creative writing at the Downtown Adult School. I stopped in at the newspaper office on my way to the Morgue."

Jigger smiled approval. "Nice pace, feller. Yet, even confined to Greenwich Village, the coincidence of the S.W. initials might mean just that—coincidence. Moreover, we don't even know that the late Anne Brown and the S.W. of that mailbox are one and the same."

"And the Professor's S.W. might turn out to be a male midget, bald and 45. Futile, isn't it? Especially when you consider—" Red stopped abruptly, gesturing. "There's body claimant number four exiting the Morgue."

Jigger looked, settling his gaze on a lean, humped figure, who movements. He got out of the Imperial.

On the building steps Jigger confronted the man ceremoniously. "How do you do, Mr. Hunter."

The head worked to meet Jigger's eye as if isolated from the physical structure below. Evidently wide eyes trained themselves on Jigger querulously. The face itself was yellow and thin. It looked old, but not with age. The man held himself rigidly, his lips trembling.

Jigger said, "The press is interested in your problem, Mr. Hunter. Interested in—your wife."

"The eyes glinted gratitude. He said, "She is Susan, my Susan. The voice had a nursery rhyme quality."

Jigger said, "Some—conventional details of appearance, huh? Identifying scars, dental work, things like that."

The face continued to dream. Regarding it uncomfortably, Jigger suddenly lost it. The dressing face was screened-off by the body of a prodigiously fat man; his pig eyes, lost in a mass of face flesh, had a blind look. He wore a large-brimmed hat, its design a compromise of Eastern and Western modes. His suddenness, like something conjured up from the stone steps of the City Morgue, was uncanny stealth for a packy-dern.

"Willie been telling you gentlemen about his wife?" There was a note of ridicule in the booming voice.

Jigger looked at the man distastefully. The man pulled his coat to one side, exposing a badge on his vest. His face glowed. "Rumely's the name. Police Chief Ben Rumely. You men represent the press?"

Jigger nodded. A wet hand reached to him. Jigger touched it lightly, and the hand moved to Red.

"Always glad to meet gentlemen of the press. The pig eyes gleamed at Jigger. "I'm from Willie Hunter's home town, Lewiston. In fact, come to fetch him back." He twisted, exposing Willie to Jigger. "Like I been doing, eh Willie?"

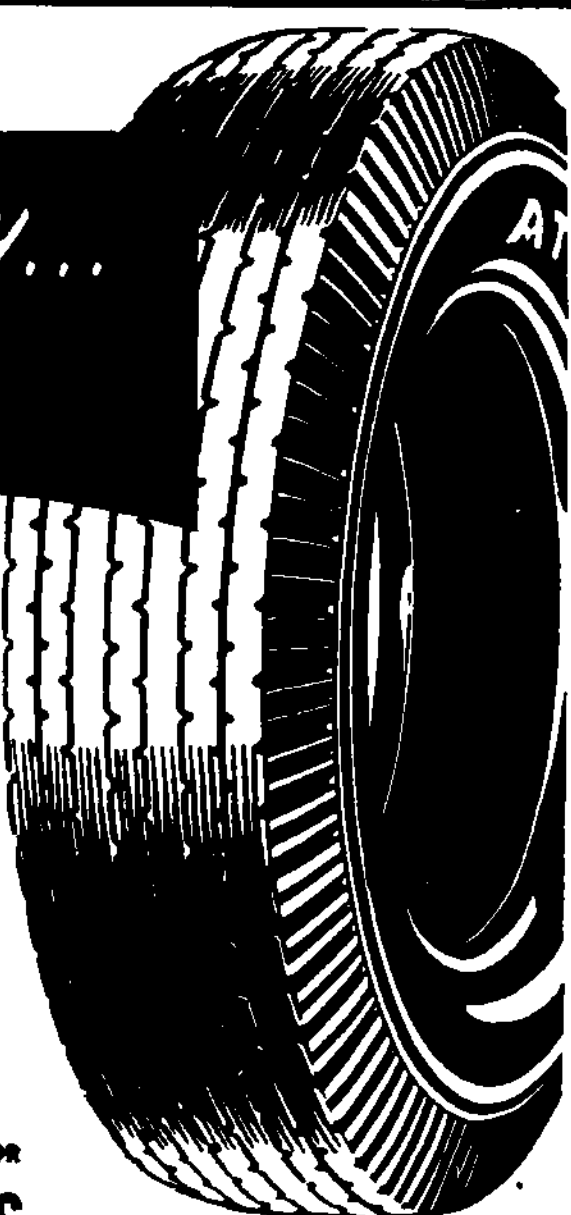

First an involuntary expression like a child recoiling from remembered punishment, then Willie's face drew sullenly.
